Global Discovery Program
Okayama University

" I'm Alyana, a 2023 graduate of Okayama University's Global Discovery Program. I specialized in management and HR, while also exploring agriculture and culture studies. I now work in Human Resources in Osaka's hospitality industry. The interdisciplinary learning and global perspective I gained at Okayama University continue to guide me in my role. I'm especially grateful for how well the program supports international students adjusting to life in Japan.
